The Black Friday Guide

Deals I actually trust, with Zora Benhamou, Gerontologist & Host of the Hack My Age Podcast

If there's something you've been eyeballing that supports your strength, sleep, energy or skin, this is the week to grab it. These are brands I partner with, and I pulled every deal into one place so you don't have to dig through your inbox.

How to use this guide

1. Scan the one-page cheat sheet and tick what's actually on your list.
2. Jump to each brand for the full deal, dates and your code. Tap the orange button to shop.
3. Watch the dates. Some deals start early, and some get better on Black Friday itself.

A FEW SMART REMINDERS

Before you hit "buy"

A few quick things so you get the deal you actually want.

Buy for your body, not the sale

Ask yourself, will I use this every week? If it supports your strength, sleep or energy, great. If not, let it go. A deal on something you won't use isn't a deal.

Check the time zone

Most of these brands run on US time. So a sale that "ends at midnight" might end in the morning for you if you're in Europe. Don't leave it to the last minute.

Use the link AND the code

Some brands need both to give you the full discount. When there's a code listed, pop it in at checkout even if you came in through my link.

Read the subscription fine print

A few deals only apply to new orders or new subscriptions. Check before you add to cart so there are no surprises.

Watch the "best day"

Some deals get better on Black Friday itself (hello, Vivarays at 30% on Nov 27). Others give their best perks early. The dates are your friend.

Gift yourself first

Seriously. Midlife is the time to invest in how you want to feel at 70, 80 and beyond. Strength, energy and function, that's the goal.

WATCH THIS SPACE

A very special offer is coming for the Hack My Age Community 👀

Keep an eye on your inbox. You won't want to miss this one.

Happy shopping, and remember, you don't need all of it. Pick what fits YOUR body and YOUR goals. That's bioindividuality, baby.
